

KATIE SCOTT

CASA HOGAR, ACAPULCO, MEXICO

What book are you reading right now? I'm actually just starting Screwtape Letters by C.S. Lewis.

Tell us one interesting fact about you. I absolutely love learning languages. I am probably a nerd when it comes to foreign languages. I am fluent in English and Spanish, but have studied Japanese, German, and French formally, and am continuing studying those languages as well as Portuguese and Italian. My dream would be to be fluent in 5 different languages.

What's your favorite food to eat in Acapulco? My favorite food is definitely Tacos al Pastor. They are the most popular dish in Acapulco and I cannot go more than a week without eating them when I am in Mexico.

Describe an experience you have had on the mission field that has impacted the way you do ministry. One of my favorite memories from my time at Casa Hogar was being able to go on a medical missions trip to the state of Oaxaca with the college students of Casa Hogar. It was an incredible experience to be able to share my love for missions with the kids that I love.. It showed me how faithful our God is in that these kids of Casa Hogar, that I have lived so much of my life with, are now serving other Mexican communities with the body of Christ. It helped me to see that discipleship does not just stop with pouring into someone else's life, but also going and serving alongside them so that they can develop a love for missions.

How can we pray for Casa Hogar? Please pray for the leaders to have emotional, physical, and spiritual rest. Pray for the children as they remain in quarantine from Covid-19. Pray for revival in the city of Acapulco.
